Two young adults Paula and Darren

F/X: SOUND OF A BAG BEING PUT DOWN ON A DESK

PAULA: Hiya.

DARREN: Hi. Excited?

PAULA: Yeah. Nervous?

DARREN: Yeah. You remembered all your training?

PAULA: I hope so. It's all been a blur these past two weeks. My heads spinning.

DARREN: It's been fun though.

PAULA: Yeah.

DARREN: Hey, what about when they showed us those speaking machines. Oh heck, what did they call them?

PAULA: Hang on it's in the training manual.

F/X: SOUND OF FLICKING THROUGH A PAPER MANUAL

PAULA: Here we go, Telephone (said slowly and clumsily).

SUPPORT

DARREN: That's it. Yeah as I was saying when they showed us that Telephone thing that was exciting enough, but those boxes with little people inside, the Televisions (said slowly again) that was amazing.

PAULA: Don't forget the other boxes that you had to plug a gerbil into.

DARREN: Mouse Paula, not Gerbil (laughing).

PAULA: Sorry (laughing), I'm hopeless. Hey look at the time, we're about to start.

F/X: _____ SOUND OF A PHONE RINGING

DARREN: It's yours. Move to page 5, it tells you what you've got to say.

F/X: _____ SOUND OF FLICKING THROUGH PAGES OF A MANUAL AND A PHONE BEING PICKED UP

PAULA: (LOW) Here goes. (LOUDER) Good morning, you're through to Dixon's technical support, how may I help you?
